Subject: Objection to proposed national guidelines

To whom it may concern,
It has come to my attention that many of the new proposed national guidelines for chiropractors, if approved, would significantly compromise the quality of HEALTHcare that chiropractic offers the Australian communities. I appreciate that the primary objective of a professional registration board is to protect the community at large of misconduct from a minority of ignorant or immoral professionals, however the current proposals set to redefine this profession in a massive and multidirectional way that does not have the support from the majority of the profession who are conscientious and highly moral. These changes would unacceptably cut the safety, thoroughness, professionalism and scope of chiropractic and the rights that chiropractors as primary HEALTHcare practitioners have to assist the Australian community to lead healthy lives rather than just 'pain free' existences.
I seriously question the quality, background, qualifications and external persuasions of the contributors of this proposal and the board members who have permitted it to go this far, and as such request an immediate review of both the board members and the approval process of who gets elected to the board as it clearly unsatisfactory.
I would appreciate a reply outlining the registration boards' response.
Thank-you

Regards,
Kristie Lane
