Re: Chiropractic Board Consultation Paper on the Proposed Guidelines for the Further Education and Training of Chiropractors when Required by the National Law

The Chiropractic Board of Australia (CBA) on 7 October invited feedback on the above consultation paper.

The Executive of the New Zealand Chiropractors' Association has reviewed the consultation documents and discussed the issues.

We support Option Two: Develop guidelines for the further education and training of chiropractors.

This option appears clear and allows CBA to determine the process - rather than have it dictated by another body. We believe the process to be robust and support that it outlines responsibilities of all bodies/representatives in the "further education as required by national law."

It seems fair in its treatment of the party requiring further education and it has defined outcomes and responsibilities of all other involved parties.

Thank you for the invitation to provide feedback on this consultation paper.

Yours sincerely
