Dear Dr Donato,

I have just read the guidelines proposed for the new registration and i can't beleive what i am reading???

I would like to know what happen to the real chiropractic philosophie??
It was only back in the 1950's that chiropractors were going to jail to practice and stand for what they beleive , this beleif is what is or should be the foundation of every chiropractors.
I don't beleive there was research article back in those days showing evidence of spinal adjustment and yet thousand of peoples have benefit from chiropractic care since 1895.What about Harvey Liliard? Was there any evidence of such recovery?

Having evidence has helped the profession to evoluate and stand in a court of law but what happen to all the miracles we see everyday in our practices?? Why can't we talk about it?

Why aren't we allowed to spread the word? None of us would be here today if the word wouldn't have been spread from back in the early days.

Using testimonials is one of the best way to spread the word and the public is very interested in reading about other peoples story...

Most clinic have a form to explain the risk of a spinal adjustment i don't think that we need to publicly advertise that we can kill someone following an adjustment if we wish to advertise about certain topics. Have we become suicidal? Do the pharmaceutical company advertise side effect of the drugs they endorse??

I do not understand why children shouldn't be under regular chiropractic care.
Again, no evidence yet so lets not do it???? where is your beleif?????

How are we suppose to spread the word about chiropractic with all those limitation on spinal screenings?
If a practitioner takes some time out of his practice to spread the word about chiropractic i don't see why business card shouldn't be pass on or for the purpose of wanted to help that person... i don't see why an appoitment ca't be made if both the person and the practioner agree on it...

These guidelines are out of control and i can't beleive that there is chiropractors out there willing to make them go through...

I have only one question? Why did you choose chiropractic if you don't even beleive in it???

regards,
