

CPD portfolio

About this portfolio

This portfolio can be used to help you record your continuing professional development (CPD). It has two parts, Part A includes completed examples of CPD activities and Part B is a blank template portfolio that you can use to record your learning goals, CPD activities and reflections. You can adjust the template to have as many rows as you need. For example, many identified learning needs may be met by a postgraduate qualification; while alternatively a single learning need may be met by multiple CPD activities. You may also choose to use an alternate format that records all the required information.

Your CPD portfolio should include information about:

1. Your CPD plan - the learning goals that you have identified and how you plan to meet them
2. CPD activities – each activity that you complete
3. Your reflection on each completed CPD activity and how it affected your practice
4. Evidence that you have completed each activity

Information about the Board's CPD requirements can be found on the Board's website.

A - CPD Portfolio with examples

The following CPD portfolio includes examples of ways in which you can record your learning goals, planned and completed CPD activities and reflections. They are provided as examples only and you may choose to provide information in your portfolio in other ways.

Example 1 – good example of recording reading journal articles

Example 2 – good example of recording a social media activity

Example 3 – acceptable example of recording a social media activity

Example 4 – example that does not meet the Board's standard for recording a social media activity

Example 5 – example of a seminar not meeting a learning goal

Example 6 – example of recording CPD in an interactive setting

Bolded/italicised information helps to explain why the example is good, acceptable or not acceptable.

Identify and plan your own learning goals [you may add or change your goals throughout the year]	Identify activities that may help to meet your learning goals [you may change these as alternative activities become available]	List: a. the activity completed b. the provider/source c. date completed d. the evidence of completion that you have retained			Record: a. the learning goal that the activity was intended to meet b. your reflection on the activity and what you learned c. whether your learning goal was met (note: your goal may not have been met or only partly met) d. how what you learnt has/hasn't changed your practice
Example 1 - Good example of reading a journal article relevant to practise
Example 1 - Good 1. Update my knowledge and understanding of the diagnosis and management of condition X	Example 1 Find recent, evidence-based information from a reliable source about the signs/symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of condition X online	Example 1 Online articles about the presenting signs and symptoms of condition X, the examination and tests to confirm a diagnosis and current best practice treatment options List articles referenced* articles a. Journal article A: reference b. Journal article B reference c. Journal article C reference d. Cochrane review Summaries attached * you must keep or be able to produce copies of these articles and your summaries	Xx/xx 2020	1.5 hr/s	Example 1 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> I undertook this activity to ensure that I have improved my understanding of condition X. The four articles that I reviewed and summarised were all published in peer reviewed journals in the previous 3 years. The Cochrane review was published 10 years ago. The more recent journal articles don't contradict the information in the Cochrane review. I have refreshed my understanding of the how to diagnose and treat condition X. The examination and tests to diagnose condition X do not differ from my current approach. Current best

					practice for the management of condition X includes earlier referral at 8 weeks for specialist intervention if there is no significant improvement. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • My learning goal was met as it appears my approach to diagnosis and management is up to date. • When managing condition X in the future I will refer for specialist opinion when there is an unsatisfactory response to treatment at 8 weeks instead of 12 weeks as am currently doing. (describes how learning need was met AND how practice will change as a result)

Example 2 - Good example of social media activity
Example 2 - Good How to examine a patient with presentation Y (Explains that the learning goal centres around examination techniques)	Example 2 Improve my knowledge and skills about examining presentation Y	Example 2 Found a half hour video from University ABC on YouTube on how to examine presentation Y URL: https://www.youtube.com/?gl=AU Summary attached (Includes information about the video source and the practitioner's summary is attached as evidence)	Xx/xx 2020	0.5 hr/s	Example 2 The video reminded me about the best way to examine a patient with condition Y. The diagrams showed how to do the examinations correctly. The diagrams helped me to review my examination technique to ensure that I am applying them correctly. (describes how learning need was met AND how practice will change as a result) The video presented a new examination technique that helps to rule out a differential diagnosis in 10% of cases and the presenter discussed the research about the new examination. I have added the new technique to my examination form and will use it from now on as it will help me to make a more accurate diagnosis of these patients. (describes how learning need was met AND provides details about how practice will change as a result)
